You may have heard of REAL ID.

It's a U.S. law established in 2005, requiring all states to comply with new identification standards for air travel and entrance to some federal facilities like military bases.

Here's what Washington
residents should remember:

ID2021.

That's right, REAL ID starts on October 1, 2021, and ID2021WA.com provides all the details you'll need to prepare.

The Basics

When REAL ID goes into effect in October 2021, you'll need more than a driver's license to fly. Options include a passport, a passport card, an enhanced driver's license (EDL), green card, and many others.

Go to ID2021WA.com to find out if you're ready for October 2021.

Don't fly?

You're covered. A REAL ID compliant-ID is not required to access federal courts, Social Security offices, national parks, and health care facilities—among others.

Other avenues of travel, such as driving across state lines or taking a train do not require a compliant REAL ID. Standard driver's licenses and ID cards will work.

Standard Driver's License and ID

Your standard driver's license is still valid. Washington will continue to issue standard driver's licenses and ID cards for driving and/or identification. Using a standard driver's license or ID card after October 2021 does not indicate citizenship or immigration status.
